

Massagetoday.com's Privacy and Ordering Policies

Privacy

Massagetoday.com is committed to protecting your privacy. This means that we will not distribute, trade, sell or rent your name, e-mail address or other personal information provided on this site to any third party.

However, massagetoday.com does reserve the right to perform group statistical analyses of user behavior and characteristics. This information would be obtained in order to measure interest in and use of the various areas of the site, and to inform advertisers of such information, but would not include any personally identifying information. For example, we may tell an advertiser that a certain number of visitors visited a certain web page over a certain period of time. But we will not divulge the names, e-mail addresses or other personal information regarding those visitors.

Additionally, users should be aware that when they voluntarily disclose personally identifiable information (such as the user's name or e-mail address) on the discussion boards or chat areas of massagetoday.com, that information, along with any information disclosed in the user's messages, can be collected and used by third parties and may result in unsolicited messages from other users or third parties. Such activities are beyond the control of massagetoday.com.

If you have further questions about privacy or any of massagetoday.com's policies, please contact the site's webmaster at webmaster -at- massagetoday.com.
